

Charles Simkins

Board Member

Charles Simkins has over twenty-five years experience in management, sales and operations and has been instrumental in the development of trash recycling service operations in Southern California. He implemented and monitored state, county and city recycling regulation compliance. Simkins' expertise in operations and waste reduction is a valuable asset to the Deconstruction & ReUse Network and as a member of the organization's Board of Directors, he will help guide the development and implementation of policies and procedures. Additionally, he will assist the organization to negotiate standards and ratings systems with city and state municipalities and green building councils.

Simkins studied Architecture and Business and has state licenses for Real Estate, Insurance and Hearing Aid Dispensing. He served six years in the U.S. Navy and Navy Reserves and is a Vietnam Veteran.
