

Dave McKechnie
Board Member

Dave McKechnie has served on the Board of Directors for Deconstruction & Building Materials ReUse Network, Inc. (Deconstruction Network) in May 2008. As Retail Operations Director for Habitat for Humanity Home Improvement Store of Greater Los Angeles, Mr. McKechnie offers guidance for the organization's partnerships with Habitat for Humanity affiliates as well as other reuse options throughout California.

McKechnie was hired by Habitat for Humanity of Greater Los Angeles in 2003 to implement the organization's first home improvement store in the Los Angeles area. Since its inception in August of 2004, the Store has contributed over $1.8 million dollars in profits back to the affiliate and diverted several million pounds of materials from local landfills. Mr. McKechnie is in the process of opening a second in the Los Angeles area.

Prior to Habitat for Humanity, Mr. McKechnie worked for over a decade with two large west coast based construction and tool supply companies and held several positions within those organizations. He also has extensive experience in the home improvement industry having been with the Lowes organization for many years.